

I have the pleasure and privilege of introducing myself to you as the newly appointed Principal of Gleneagles Secondary College.

Gleneagles is a school with proud traditions and an exciting future. It is a College with an established record of academic excellence within a caring and nurturing environment. Our success is attributed to a number of factors: dedicated staff, strong leadership, and above all, strong relationships between staff, students and parents.

As an experienced Principal I am appreciative of the work of Sue Peddlesden, who led the College from 2002 until her retirement last Term, and I will honour the legacy she created.

As Principal I will ensure that Gleneagles Secondary College continues to be a school of choice for the families and young people of Endeavour Hills; a school that pursues excellence, exceeds expectations and values all community members.

I am looking forward to getting to know the staff, parents and most importantly, the students of the College over the coming weeks as we begin the next exciting stage of the Gleneagles' journey together.

Simon Sherlock | Principal